A CHARACTERISTIC LETTER

From the Pen of One Who Knows How to Write Such Epistles.

TILTON, Ky., August 20th, 1894.

Bro. Davis: Having been induced for some time, my physician prescribed a holiday trip, and I have been in possession of the needed commodity necessary to attend a summer resort, I was compelled to call on my "country cousins" for succor in this hour of affliction.

I have been in the city of Mayville Saturday last Saturday to seek a health inspiring place in the climate of old Fleming. The beautiful rays of the setting sun had disappeared, and in a beautiful twilight, while gentle zephyrs wafted through tall, majestic trees, we sighted a beautiful mansion, where beautiful flowers lined the broad walk, laden with sweet fragrance, partaking an Edenic nature, while the plaintive tones of the turtle dove were heard in the distance.

While sitting on a broad piazza drinking in the beauty and grandeur of the home of my childhood the moon arose above the hill beyond, a beautiful valley adding additional luster to the scene.

By the way, Bro. Davis, I find the Ledger goes peering through distance into the glory of the sun—all the world around. And again in my journey I find the "mystic letters three" standing out in bold relief on the magnificent structure opposite the Ledger office are to be seen in almost every household.

As I sit beneath the broad boughs of a majestic tree, drinking in the grandeur of Nature, I feel inspired to dwell on the beauties thereof as they are revealed by Nature's God.

A close study of Nature reveals the fact that there is a glory of the day and a glory of the night, and the sun and moon in plaintive tones sing a solemn requiem at the close of the day. The owl takes no pleasure in the day, but finds his glory in the silence of the night, oftentimes disturbing the quietude of God's grandest creation, that of man.

Nature oftentimes withholds reason, leaving a brain darkened with clouds, casting a shadow over a fearful drama of life, demonstrating the fact that "man was made to mourn."

"To be or not to be is the question. Whether 'tis nobler in the mind to suffer the slings and arrows of outrageous fortune, or to take up arms against a sea of trouble and by opposing end them." *

GET TOGETHER!

But they Didn't Do It Until Last Night at the Depot.

Billie Breckinridge can't draw pictures alongside our baseball club, especially when it is on its return home after such a successful tour as the one to Cynthiana was.

Strangers who saw the procession last night from the train to the hotel thought it was a detachment of Coxeyites on their way home from Washington City.

The excitement at the K. C. Depot was caused by the citizens turning out en masse to welcome Manager Watson's Windbreakers' return home.

On Monday evening when the news flashed over the wires that the "best amateur team in the whole state" had been defeated by the Cynthians, Burk Goodman and his crowd actually laughed.

This paper thought the "unpatriotic" and that on the next day they would send the old one up in a balloon and get a new one, but it seems as though the same old "Gaffney" did the unpatriotic yesterday, for a score 18 to 5 was what made the people say "Police!"

And this cry called to arms the whole city, who went to the train last evening to meet the boys and tell them how much they thought of their "good playing."

Billie Stockton, the ex Manager, was Chairman of the Reception Committee, and by some tall hustling he rallied about six hundred of the faithful and a drum corps at the depot.

Jimmie Hunt the fifer, when the train whistled, was told to turn to "No. 32 in the old book," and be ready when the boys got off the train.

The locals had gone down in defeat, but it was, according to the telegrams, so overwhelming it didn't have the right ring, hence the reception.

As soon as the train stopped the players were captured and placed at the head of the procession, the band struck up No. 32 in the old book, "Don't Give Up the Ship." Billie Stockton's commanding voice sang out "Fall in!" and then "March!" and down the street went the drum corps, the team and the fans in order, with Joseph H. Dodson, John Bramel, Russell Warder and William Case all up near the band.

It was rumored that each one carried a banner, but this is not so.

When the procession arrived at the Central they all "got together" around the water cooler, where John Ellet demanded to know the name of the "rotten umpire," and they all took sick.

And then Jimmy Hunt played No. 6 in the new book, "See, the Conquering Hero Comes," when some body announced the arrival of that package of baseball shoes.

Well, boys, they did the best they could. When the umpire said "play ball," the boys didn't know how, that's all.

The All-Professionals of Cincinnati will be here for two games with the locals Friday and Saturday. The All-Professionals is the fastest team in Cincinnati outside the League. The Emma Warren Theater Company's Uniformed Band has tendered its services for the game Friday afternoon, and will entertain the occasion by giving an open air concert at the Park before the game.

WISH I COULD.

Wish I could sit forever where the rippling waters flow,
Am feel the nervous jerkin' of the fishes down below,
Am see 'em flashin', sparklin' in the quiet sunny air,
A scatterin' drops o' water with their flutterin', everywhere!

Wish I could stay forever near the mystic balcony,
Where some anxious office seeker with a pocket full o' rocks,
Longed to be elected an' was seekin' of a trade,
Am me swappin' votes for cash a settlin' in the shade.

Wish I could be forever where the moonlight lickers kiss,
Would touch my soul with glory, with a calm, contented bliss,
Am feel the glow of sweetness a tremblin' on my lips,
Am I taste my thirst being with long refreshing sips!

The Henrietta.

The Emma Warren Company presented Bronson Howard's celebrated comedy last night at the Washington Opera-house in a very creditable manner. The play was handsomely set, the acting good and the dressing fine. Tonight they present "Mother and Son," a four-act society comedy by Sargent. Saturday afternoon a matinee will be given.

Midnight Fete.

There will be a grand midnight fete at the Perry Schoolhouse, on the Mayville and Lexington Turnpike, two miles south of Washington, Thursday night, for the benefit of the School District.

There will be dancing in the new Schoolhouse, for which occasion a good band has been secured, and all who attend will have plenty of good music with which to enjoy themselves.

There will also be plenty of refreshments on the grounds, but nothing intoxicating will be allowed.

There will be speaking from several candidates of both political parties, and we are sure you will be entertained right on this one thing on the program.

A set of five silver knives and forks will be presented to the handsome lady present, and that's also a drawing card. The ugliest man will be presented with a gold-headed cane.

The Committee on Arrangements is composed of P. Tierney, Thomas Parry, J. Watson, J. R. Berry and the School Trustees.

Madison Female Institute.

RICHMOND, KY.

Boarding and Day School for Young Ladies

Thirty-six years open September 11th under the management of Mrs. A. R. Bourne and Miss Alice Lloyd, late of Hamilton College, Lexington, Ky. Buildings commodious; hot and cold baths and closets; recreation-rooms; large, well lighted and ventilated grounds consist of fourteen acres, affording ample space for tennis court and other outdoor amusements, commanding location on a hill overlooking the beautiful city of Richmond, within a few minutes walk of the business portion, thus combining the advantages of a city with the retirement of a country seat. Mrs. Bourne and Miss Lloyd will be assisted by an able corps of teachers, graduates of our best colleges and universities. Music faculty complete, of acknowledged ability. Board of students limited to twenty-five, thus affording opportunity for social intercourse between faculty and students in sitting-room and parlors, impossible in large boarding schools. For catalogues and all information concerning the school address

MISS A. R. BOURNE or MISS ALICE LLOYD, Associate Principals Madison Female Institute, Richmond, Ky.

TESTIMONIALS.

LEXINGTON, Ky., May 24th, 1894.
It gives me pleasure to say that I am well acquainted with the character and work of Mrs. A. R. Bourne and Miss Alice Lloyd, and that I think the Madison Female Institute very fortunate in securing their services in its management. They are both ladies of culture, executive ability and of skill in the art of teaching. No parents in Kentucky or elsewhere need hesitate to place daughters under their care or instruction.

J. W. McARVET.

To whom it may concern: Having learned that my daughter, Mrs. A. R. Bourne and Miss Alice Lloyd have engaged to take charge of Madison Female Institute, it gives me pleasure to say that they are in my opinion in every way qualified to manage the same. My daughter has had fine opportunities of learning the best methods of teaching in some of the most celebrated universities in the land. This combined with her ability and some ten or twelve years experience in the schoolroom, gives assurance of success in her undertaking. Mrs. Bourne and Miss Lloyd are well known to me as graduates of our best colleges, and from my knowledge of their ability, energy and Christian culture, I am sure they will do good service in the discharge of their duties. In this expectation I commend them and their enterprise to the patronage of the public.

The success of Mrs. Annie M. Beam, of McKeesport, Pennsylvania, in the treatment of diarrhoea in her children will undoubtedly be of interest to many mothers. She says: "I spent several weeks in Johns town, Pa., after a great flood, on account of my husband being employed there. We had several children with us, two of whom took the diarrhoea very badly. I got some of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy from Rev. Mr. Chapman. It cured both of them. I know of several other cases where it was equally successful. I think it cannot be overpraised and cheerfully recommend it." Twenty-five and 50 cent bottles for sale by Theo. C. Power, Druggist.

Mr. Thomas Batte, editor of the Graphic, Texarkana, Arkansas, has found what he believes to be the best remedy in existence for the flux. His experience is well worth remembering. He says: "Last summer I had a very severe attack of flux. I tried almost every known remedy, none giving relief. Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy was recommended to me. I purchased a bottle and received almost immediate relief. I continued to use the medicine and was entirely cured. I take pleasure in recommending this remedy to any person suffering with such a disease, as in my opinion it is the best medicine in existence." Twenty-five and 50 cent bottles for sale by Theo. C. Power, Druggist.
